DISCUSSION:

Elementary General Music instructional materials were last adopted in 2017, with the service agreement for digital materials ending school year 2022. The next adoption cycle for Elementary General Music instructional materials will be in 2024-2025, with newly adopted materials being implemented in classrooms in the 2025-2026 school year. This year between agreements is referred to as a “gap year”. In this period, the district must pay for the extension of the digital access. These materials are published by QuaverEd and are available to the district at a discounted price from QuaverEd. The attached Exhibit “A” is a description of costs and negotiated discounts associated with this purchase.

The standard sole source agenda template has been used, which does not require legal review.
