

Mark Page-Botelho Ph.D.

I have completed a School Administration & Supervision program from Johns Hopkins, as well as a PhD in Educational Leadership from Pacific University. I have six years of being on leadership teams in various schools around the globe, dealing with a variety of issues such as budgets, hiring committees, accreditation, among other administrative tasks and initiatives. My goal as an administrator is to increase student performance in the areas of academic progress, equity, and college preparedness alongside creating an atmosphere where students can grow to be contributing members of society in a safe environment.
